Description
I have the following problem: in a table I have lines that fill half the page, then I have a line whose text is long and then the line is inserted on the next page leaving a lot of space on the page. I would like the line to break in 2. How can this be done? Thanks

Are you setting somewhere the Table Split Mode to false?

$table->setSplitMode(false);

good morning

not set the parameter "$ table-> set Split Mode (false);" nowhere, I believe it is a default setting. But after entering: "$ table-> set Split Mode (true);" in my code the problem is solved. Thank you for the reply you were very fast and effective. I made a great purchase with your plugin Strange, that should be the default setting. I'll check the defaults maybe it's a kind of bug.

You're welcome. I'll close this issue for the moment.
